Scoring for PROMIS Measures – Youth Self-Report

To score a section of the PROMIS Measures – Youth Self-Report:

1. Add the points of each item in the section to get a Raw Summed Score.
2. Use the appropriate conversion table to obtain a T-Score.

Interpreting the PROMIS Measures – Youth Self-Report

For most PROMIS instruments, a T-Score of 50 is the average for the United States general population with a standard deviation of 10 because calibration testing was performed on a large sample of the general population. You can read more about the calibration and centering samples on HealthMeasures.net (<http://www.healthmeasures.net/score-and-interpret/interpret-scores/promis>). The T-score is provided with an error term (Standard Error or SE). The Standard Error is a statistical measure of variance and represents the “margin of error” for the T-score.

Important: A higher PROMIS T-Score represents more of the concept being measured. Thus, a child who has a T- Score of 60 for Social Relationships, Family Relationships or Peer Relationships is one standard deviation better than the general population on that concept. By comparison, a Social Relationships, Family Relationships or Peer Relationships T-score of 40 is one SD worse than average.
